The Last Post is a home for animals established by radio personality Pegeen Fitzgerald in 1982. It is owned and operated by the Vivisection Investigation League, Anti-Vivisection Society of New York, Inc., a charitable tax-exempt corporation. It is a non-profit organization which depends entirely on donations and bequests. Created with cats in mind, the Last Post takes in strays and rescues felines from euthanasia; in addition, pet owners can will their feline companions to the shelter. But no matter how the cats get to the Last Post, they live their lives in style. The establishment sits on 37 acres of land designated a wildlife sanctuary. There are several buildings on the grounds, all homes for cats. Each building has been designed with cats in mind. Posts and beams do more than hold up the structure -- cats climb the posts and perch on the beams for a good view of their surroundings. Many large windows and skylights line the buildings so the cats can get their fill of sunshine from inside while decks surround each building allowing cats to venture outside without straying too far from home. When you enter a building that is home to a group of cats, don't be surprised if two dozen felines make a run for you and entwine themselves betwixt your legs. If you happen to sit on one of the numerous couches, it's likely you'll have two cats sitting on your shoulders and three more on your lap -- all purring. Most cats are available for adoption, and those that are not adopted live out their lives happily at the Last Post. And, fret not, all cats are spayed or neutered by the staff vet upon arrival at the Post. Currently, the Last Post is home to over 200 cats, several dogs, a pair of pigs and a goat.

Address: 6409 Stream Valley Way, Gaithersburg, MD 20882

Email: housewithaheart@comcast.net

Types of Animals Accepted: Dogs and cats.

Limit of Animal Number: Currently full.

Rates: Not specified.

House with a Heart Senior Pet Sanctuary (HWAH), a non-profit and all-volunteer organization, is currently home to about 30 senior dog residents and 5 senior cat residents. HWAH is at full capacity currently and we expect to be for the foreseeable future due to the number of dogs and cats that we currently have. It is difficult for HWAH to turn down a dog or cat in need, but from experience, we know that it is necessary to set a limit so we can continue to provide HWAH residents with the proper care and attention they deserve and require. For those individuals who need to give up their pet, please look into the resources below first, by clicking on the names.

1. Below are two links you can use: How to Find Homes (a service of www.BestFriends.org) and www.pets911.com or call 1-888-PETS-911 for Pets 911. 2. If a behavior problem is the reason you feel you no longer keep your pet, we have a website that you can visit which may be of help to you. We understand there are free workshops. www.yourdogfriend.info/Positive-Trainers.html. 3. If due to incontinence issues, please read our suggestion on how you can deal with that issue and still keep your pet and companion. It is a fact of life for many senior Pets and people and we strongly encourage finding a solution rather than giving up your wonderful Pet. If you are giving up your pet because of an incontinence problem, doggy diapers are available at most major pet stores and the incontinence pads are available at most grocery and drug stores. 4. HWAH's Safety Net Email Service: As a way to help dogs or cats in need of a home that cannot be taken into the HWAH program, HWAH will send out a HWAH Senior Pet Safety Net message by Email. The Safety Net goes out to over 1100 people and can increase your chances of finding a home for some senior dogs or senior cats. To be considered for this email distribution, you must fill out the attached form. This does not guarantee that the email will go out though but we will try and accommodate your request. If the email does go out, any interested parties would contact YOU directly to talk about your pet. Our role is strictly to assist getting out the message to help the Pet find a new home. Finding a temporary or permanent home for the dog you are trying to place may not happen as quickly as hoped, but we applaud you for helping and encourage you to take the necessary time and make a careful selection for that wonderful pet that you are trying to help. HWAH is situated in a house located in Gaithersburg, Maryland on two acres of fenced property and provides its residents with a comfortable, bright and spotless home environment. Doggie doors leading to secure outdoor play yards are accessible from almost every room in the house. The senior dogs at HWAH are there as a result of becoming homeless or were in the process of losing their home for a variety of reasons. Each dog arrives with its own unique set of circumstances. Regardless of the reason, once a senior dog becomes homeless or does not have the option to remain with its owner who may not be willing or able to provide the extra care and attention a senior dog may need, the dog's life is at risk. Senior dogs are in danger of being euthanized because most senior dogs will not be adopted. HWAH fills a need for its dogs by providing a sanctuary for them and, unlike most other rescues; HWAH does not seek adoption for its residents. Instead, HWAH provides a safe and loving place for its residents to live out their full lives so they will never lose their home again. HWAH's monthly expenses are high because it cares for a large number of senior dogs. Food and medical expenses are generally greater with senior dogs because many require special diets and more frequent medical attention. HWAH relies on donations, dog-boarding fees, and doggie day care fees to cover its expenses. In addition, HWAH's all-volunteer staff is instrumental in its day to day operations and upkeep of the sanctuary. House with a Heart is a 501c 3 nonprofit organization so your donation is tax deductible.

Rates: Donations appreciated for surrenders.

Live and Let Live Farm, Inc. is a volunteer, charitable, non-profit 501(c)(3) animal rehabilitation rescue shelter and sanctuary. We rescue abused, unwanted, unhomeed animals, mainly horses, and provide them with either a temporary or permanent safe place to interact with people. We strive to rehabilitate and or retrain animals, leading to increased confidence and self-esteem, and relationships that benefit both animals and people. When applicable, we will try to find appropriate homes for rehabilitated animals. Those animals that are considered unadoptable will be given lifetime care at our farm. The farm is located in the heart of New Hampshire in Chichester, just a few miles east from the capital city of Concord. Everyone can help make a difference in an animal's life. Live and Let Live Farm survives on volunteer help and your kind donations to help, save and rehabilitate endless, precious lives. Live and Let Live Farm has served and helped animals and their humans all over New Hampshire and the surrounding New England states including the rescue of Premarins (pregnant mares, foals and stallions) out of Canada and some of America's Mustang's. We offer tours every Sunday at 2:30 for interested adopters, volunteers and supporters. Directions can be found under the contact section of Live and Let Live Farm's website.

Type of Animal Accepted: Cats only.

Limit of Animal Number: Currently 95.

Rates: $15,000 per cat.

The Tabby's Place Guardian Angel Program offers a means to ensure that your feline companions will be cared for at the time of your disability or death. Under this program, you can be assured that your cats will gain immediate acceptance to the facility, where they will receive love and attention, high-quality medical care, and a peaceful, home-like environment. While cats at Tabby's Place live contentedly, we believe the best outcome for the majority of our residents is to be adopted into loving families of their own. We do our best to find ideal homes for our residents and perform diligent follow-up to ensure that the cats continue to be happy and healthy. If the right match does not come along, each resident has a home for life at Tabby's Place. To be accepted into the Guardian Angel Program, cats must meet these requirements: (i) test negative for FeLV and FIV, and, (ii) be able to be examined without sedation. (For cats who have been housed together, we may refuse the entire group of cats if any of the cats test positive for FeLV or FIV.)

Type of Animals Accepted: Cats, dogs, horses and other farm animals.

Limit of Animal Number: Not specified.

Rates: Individually determined based on ability to pay.

Seer Farms mission is to serve families in crisis due to foreclosure, extended medical illness, extended military deployment, domestic violence and other acute situations where families are forced to make decisions quickly and sometimes unexpectedly. Our Out of Crisis program enables families to place their animals in a guaranteed, affordable housing situation while they move through their crisis and start to rebuild their lives or settle back in. At that time, they can make a measured decision about what to do with their pet. This decouples the difficult emotional decision about the family's companion animal from the already difficult experience at hand. Because Seer Farms is a multi-species facility situated in a farm setting, families with combinations of animals or large animals will not be turned away. Seer Farms operates as a temporary facility where families surrender their animals to Seer Farms for a time period arranged with the family at the time of surrender. A holding fee, using a sliding scale based on ability to pay, is part of the process. Seer Farms cares for the animal for the duration of the arranged time at the end of which, the family reclaims their pet(s), permanently surrenders them, or negotiates an extension. In some circumstances, this gives the family a bridge strategy for their pets so that they can later recover them, returning their families to "whole." For others, it will allow them to use that time, once they have passed the stress of their specific crisis, to find their choice of home for their pets.

Type of Animals Accepted: Horses only.

Limit of Animal Number: No limit.

Rates: There is no set rate, however typically the owner is aware of the cost of maintaining horses and their wills include either a trust or an outright gift of funds large enough to provide for the maintenance for the expected lifetime of the horse.

Mylestone Equine Rescue is a private, nonprofit New Jersey organization dedicated to providing sanctuary for horses subject to cruelty, neglect, and disabilities. We provide shelter, care, rehabilitation, adoption, and retirement homes for horses such as these. Mylestone is a valuable alternative for these horses because there are limited facilities to care for large animals. Mylestone promotes public education about the plight of abused and neglected horses, encourages regulatory action on their humane treatment and transportation, works with humane officials to reduce abuse and neglect, provides ongoing care through a Mylestone-affiliated, paid and licensed veterinarian and monitors general welfare through regular visits by trained Mylestone staff. They establish standards for veterinary care including shots, worming, dentistry, and special care needs. When, due to illness or injury, comfort can no longer be provided, Mylestone ensures humane and painless euthanasia. Horses that are rehabilitated are available for adoption to "qualified" homes.

Rates: The lifetime fee is not specified, contact Leslie for information.

A companion animal welfare society whose no-kill adoption centers have found loving homes for more than one million dogs, cats, puppies, and kittens in the century since they were founded. Bide-A-Wee was established as a nonprofit association in 1903, with the primary purpose of providing temporary shelter and finding loving, responsible homes for unwanted pets. Today, Bide-A-Wee also works to preserve and extend the special relationship between people and these most devoted of friends, through education, community outreach, free spaying and neutering for dogs and cats every summer, an externship program for veterinary students, pet therapy, pet memorial parks, and the Golden Years Retirement Home for older, unadoptable pets. The Bideawee Loving Legacy program has been developed for pet parents that have an especially deep and meaningful bond with their pet. As a pet parent your love and commitment to your pet is everlasting. Should something happen to you, Bideawee's Loving Legacy program will ensure that your promise to care for your pet is fulfilled. Bideawee has served pets and pet parents for more than a century and our experienced team coupled with our expertise in pet care makes us a source that you can trust for your pet's future. Bideawee is committed to making sure that your pet spends the rest of its life in a warm, loving environment, similar to the one you currently provide.

Farm Sanctuary works to end cruelty to farm animals and promotes compassionate living through rescue, education and advocacy. We envision a world where the violence that animal agriculture inflicts upon people, animals, and the environment has ended and where instead we exercise values of compassion. Our 175-acre New York farm is set amidst rolling green hills and forests in the Finger Lakes Region of upstate New York. We are located next door to Sugar Hill State Forest, just west of Watkins Glen. It is a 45-minute drive west of Ithaca and a 1½-hour drive southeast of Rochester. In addition to caring for hundreds of animals, Farm Sanctuary's New York facility receives thousands of visitors every year. The "People Barn," a unique visitor center, is filled with displays, literature, and videos. It also includes the "Kids' Korner" and gift shop, where visitors will find a variety of items, including books, videos, posters, and vegetarian snacks.

Pet Estates is a small, private facility offering lifetime care for your pets. We have been in the business of boarding animals for eighteen years and have been operating Pet Estates for seven years. We're located on a beautiful seven-acre rural plot, in the rolling hills of Melrose, New York. We provide private and semi-private condos and special care and attention for a small number of dogs and cats to be sure that every pet gets plenty of attention. My husband, Don, and I live on the premises, and personally manage the Pet Estates. We're available for your pets, twenty-four hours a day, and our trained, caring staff helps us give your pets the best possible care. We offer your pet a quality lifestyle when you can no longer care for him or her. Continuing care is always a concern for those who love their pets. Pet Estates Inc. is now offering trusts for pets that can be prepared with legal documents to assure that our clients' wishes for their pets' care will be carried out. Our focus is to provide a loving, clean, healthy, safe, and social environment for your beloved pet. We offer the following estate plans to fit your wishes, such as remaining on our estate for a lifetime, private or group living arrangements, or placement to a private home. Our estate pets will be allowed to socialize and play outside on the premises throughout the day. Playtime includes swimming, boating, hiking, and many other outside & inside activities. Senior citizens are welcome to visit, which is therapeutic to both pets and seniors. Living arrangements are all custom-designed to enhance the lifestyle of your pets. Condo units overlooking the pond include enclosed porch, living quarters, and play area, providing your family's pets with the comforts of home. Condos include a TV and VCR for daily viewing of pets and family videos. Pets can relax to music from the stereo along with their heated beds. Grooming is maintained on a regular basis. Pet massage is also offered upon request by a certified pet massage therapist. Pet massage aids in stress relief, muscle and joint stiffness (arthritis), and circulation. Also, veterinarian services are available twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. Pet Estates, Inc. is inspected annually. We must meet or exceed the local town kennel laws and guidelines enforced under the agriculture and market law of New York State. Area veterinarians use our facility and also refer their clients to us; references are available upon request.

Rates: If paid during the time of enrollment $10,000 for the first and $5,000 for each additional, if deferred through a bequest in a will $15,000 for first pet, $7,500 per each additional pet.

North Shore Animal League America, headquartered in Port Washington, NY, is the largest no-kill animal rescue and adoption organization in the world. Since 1944, The Animal League's mission has been saving the lives of pets through adoption, rescue, spay/neuter and advocacy initiatives. Every year, the Animal League reaches across the country to rescue, nurture and adopt approximately 20,000 pets into happy and loving homes. To date, the Animal League has placed close to 1 million puppies, kittens, cats and dogs into carefully screened homes. One of the first animal rescue agencies on the ground in the aftermath of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita, the Animal League rescued more than 1,400 pets from the region. The Animal League is also home to the Alex Lewyt Veterinary Medical Center, which provides 24-hour care for the pets sheltered at the Animal League. Every year the medical center takes care of more than 10,000 outpatient visits, administers more than 15,000 vaccinations and performs over 11,000 free spay/neuter procedures for every adopted animal, preventing over 132 million potentially unwanted litters. Additionally, the Animal League's SPAY/USA program is a nationwide referral service for affordable spay/neuter services. The Animal League is also home to a National Shelter Rescue and Humane Education Team. North Shore Animal League America offers a wide variety of programs such as a mobile adoption program, adoption counseling, training and foster care for pets with special needs.

Limit of Animal Number: No limit.

Rates: A donation in the amount of $7,500.00 per pet is required for lifetime care regardless of the age of the pet.

The Kent Animal Shelter is a private, not-for-profit humane society founded in 1968 to provide a haven for homeless, abused and abandoned animals until new homes can be found. The shelter never destroys an animal unless it is incurably ill. Over 600 animals are placed in responsible homes each year and more than 300 animals are spayed or neutered at the Kent low-cost spay/neuter clinic. Kent Animal Shelter also has a Pet Therapy Program and a Retirement Home Program for cats that survive their owners. Located on scenic property near the Peconic River, with a dedicated staff, spacious exercise facilities and expert medical supervision, Kent is much more than a shelter. Kent provides an alternative for cats that survive their owners. A simple clause in a person's will can provide long-term care for a pet that otherwise may not have an alternative place to live. The kitties live in a homelike atmosphere and are never caged. Veterinary care is always available if necessary. An outdoor screened cattery allows the residents to enjoy the warmer summer months outside.

Silver Streak Kennels is life on a farm in the country for your dog. This is not a conventional kennel. These dogs are treated as our own. Dogs spend quality time--months or years--surrounded by trees, grass, and rolling hills--in comfort and love. In essence, your dog becomes a loving member of our family. Silver Streak Kennels is an open, natural environment in the heart of the beautiful Leatherstocking Region of New York State. It offers long-term boarding or full-time retirement for your pet on a farm in the country.

Founded over two decades ago, the Thoroughbred Retirement Foundation's mission is clear and simply stated: to save thoroughbred horses no longer able to compete on the racetrack from possible neglect, abuse and slaughter. No other thoroughbred rescue operation offers the TRF's many retirement options. For countless horsemen in the racing industry, and for owners who can no longer take care of their former racehorses, the TRF's retirement programs answer their desperate need and their overwhelming desire to insure that their horses will live out their days in safe and serene surroundings.

Foster Parrots, Ltd. is a nonprofit organization dedicated to the rescue and sanctuary of unwanted, languishing, and abused captive parrots and other displaced exotics. Through educational initiatives we seek to bring wider public awareness to captive parrot issues and to help raise standards of care for domestically kept parrots. A staunch advocate for parrots as wild animals, Foster Parrots has established a conservation project in the South American country of Guyana that has helped protect parrots and other wildlife since 2004. Foster Parrots, Ltd. is accredited by the Global Federation of Animal Sanctuaries. We are a proud member of The Avian Welfare Coalition and are honored to be a WSPA Society member. Having recently relocated from Massachusetts to our new 15-acre property in Hopkinton, Rhode Island, we currently provide permanent sanctuary care to 475 unadoptable and retiring parrots, and are fortunate to have the opportunity to extend rescue services to an expanding number of other captive exotics as well. Our current non-psittacine residents include a family of African crested porcupines, a pair of Patagonian caviés, a number of sulcata tortoises and aquatic turtles, and several species of waterfowl, chickens and peacocks. Our doors will be open to other exotic animals in the future, as space and quality environments allow. By concentrating our focus on parrots, we are extending a vital service to a commercially marketed "pet" that begins its journey at a disadvantage simply by virtue of its wild nature. By opening our doors to other exotic wild animals that also suffer as "pets" or in captive situations, we are placing parrots in their proper context alongside other wild animals, reminding people that this is, in fact, what parrots are.
