24th Chance 4 Pets to Speak at Annual American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine (ACVIM) Conference

LOS GATOS, CA (April 20, 2007) — The American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine (ACVIM) has invited 24th Chance 4 Pets to speak at its annual conference in Seattle, Washington, on June 6 – 9, 2007.

24th Chance 4 Pets is a non-profit organization dedicated to eliminating the tragic euthanization of healthy pets due to the death or incapacity of their human companions. Each year, more than 500,000 animals in the United States are relinquished to shelters and euthanized because their owners passed away without making provisions for them. Recent natural disasters have drawn additional attention to this issue.

"It's a huge problem that is hardly recognized," says Amy Shever, Executive Director of 24th Chance 4 Pets. "We believe that by reaching out to the veterinarian community, we can work together to help pet owners establish emergency plans and select caregivers who are committed to caring for their pets should the owner pass away or become too ill to care for them."

"I truly believe that the mission of 24th Chance 4 Pets is critically important," adds Lauren Knobel, DVM. "In my 16 years as a veterinarian, many of my pet owner clients were extremely concerned about how to protect their pets in case of their own illness or death. Having an organization focused on providing education and tools to help pet owners is an incredible resource. I applaud their efforts and fully support their work."
