FSA is dedicated to the sheltering of stray and unwanted dogs, cats and horses. FSA was founded by Frank and Diana Stockton, whose primary goals are to provide a safe haven for unwanted creatures while trying to find good homes for them, and to sponsor a spay program through one of the local veterinarians. Currently, over 200 dogs, cats, several horses and a donkey reside at the peaceful mountain hideaway. Frank and Diana are the primary caretakers of these unwanted critters; a time-consuming but rewarding chore.

Ensuring Care For Your Pets After You're Gone

If you have pets, you want the comfort of knowing they will be cared for and loved if anything should happen to you. We strongly recommend that you please remember your pets when crafting your will. Find someone you can trust to leave them with, and talk to this person so they know your plans. If, however, you do not have anyone to leave your pets to, Nate's Honor Animal Rescue now offers a program called Lifetime Care to ensure your pet is taken care of. Through the Lifetime Care program, those who leave a bequest to NHAR can make plans for the lifetime care of their pets should their pets survive them. When an NHAR member enrolled in this program passes away, we will guarantee a home for their pet(s). These animals can stay at NHAR or at one of our foster homes until a new, permanent home can be found for them. The steps to follow to enroll in the program are simple.

Step 1: Enroll in the program. You can do this by calling NHAR at (941) 538-6206 or emailing the development team directly at development@honoranimalrescue.org

Step 2: Prepare or alter your will to include NHAR (tax id 26-0878064). Make sure you include sufficient resources to cover the long-term care of your companions, including funds to cover emergency medical care should that become necessary. Remember, NHAR is a no-kill rescue. Animals are therefore not put to sleep unless they are suffering and beyond care. While many animals are adopted quickly, some are with us for quite a while. Older pets or those with medical or behavior-based special needs can take quite a lot of time to place into new homes. A general rule of thumb is to include a minimum of $5,000 for each of your pets. This will provide for their care and leave enough resources to provide for any emergencies that might arise. One way to accomplish this goal is to take out a life insurance policy and list NHAR as the beneficiary. This ensures the resources will be available for your pets if they are ever needed.

Step 3: Send NHAR a copy of your will. We will keep it on file with your enrollment information. This will help us ensure the resources left to us may be accessed easily should they be needed.

Step 4: NHAR will send you a card to keep in your wallet indicating that if anything should happen to you, your animals are to be taken directly to our shelter. Place this card in your wallet and inform your friends and family that you have made these preparations. In the event that you leave pets behind, this will guarantee a prompt and easy admission at the shelter. Preparing for the Lifetime Care of your pets is an important part of being a pet guardian.

We are a self-supporting, nonprofit 501(c)(3), volunteer humane organization established in 1988. We are dedicated to assisting bird owners in finding new, loving homes for their birds when the owners can no longer care for them. Since its inception, Feathered Friends has placed nearly 1,000 birds. Our current intake averages 200-300 birds per year. Our goals are to educate persons interested in bird ownership in the proper care of pet birds; to provide an avenue for people who can't keep their bird, but want to ensure a quality new home for their pet; to find homes for displaced birds in permanent adoptive homes or shelters/sanctuaries, depending on the birds' individual needs, with persons who understand and respect birds for their uniqueness; to rehabilitate and correct behavioral problems in birds resulting from neglect, abuse, or improper care.

Lucky Parrot offers permanent sanctuary to older parrots. We do not breed, buy, sell, or broker parrots. All the Lucky Parrots are here permanently. We are not equipped to handle adoptions, although we may be able to suggest potential adoption sources. We are located on a 4-acre site in Southwest Florida. This plan was 10 years in the making. The location is subtropical. The Parrots now live and thrive out of doors in this warm climate. Our aviaries are big, but no matter how big they should be bigger. And now we are turning our attention to building and maintaining outdoor, full-flight aviaries so that the parrots can do what they were born to do: fly. Hopefully, with your help, we can realize our goal to build large free flight aviaries. The various species do not all get along with each other, and for this reason, no single structure will suffice for all the Lucky Parrots.

The Shyne Foundation is a (501)(c)(3) non-profit corporation dedicated to the permanent housing of formerly abused, neglected, and unwanted parrots. Birds were designed for flight and here the birds live in a quarter-acre, sixteen-foot high free-flight simulated rainforest habitat in South Florida. They are thus enabled to live their lives as closely as possible in the way nature intended, enjoying the fresh air and sunshine, the trees, the rain, the feel of the earth beneath their feet and interactions with each other. Bob and Liz Johnson, the founders of The Shyne Foundation, so named it in memory of Shyne Browne, who was a dedicated researcher and breeder of Hyacinth Macaws. In her honor, the Foundation is also continuing the research portion of her work with this highly endangered species. Here, the Foundation is attempting to learn more about Hyacinth's natural interactive behaviors (and misbehaviors) in this natural habitat setting; such research has seldom, if ever, been done within the confines of captivity. As the caretakers of parrots, we must consider preserving the spirit of the bird as well as merely the physical form. A bird's environmental requirements differ greatly from ours and proper environmental stimulation is important to both their physiological and psychological well-being. Here, we are attempting to provide as natural a setting for them as possible. Many of the psychotic behaviors exhibited by some pet birds, such as feather plucking, excessive screaming, and biting, are often the result of being forced into an unnatural environment. Many of these undesirable behaviors are alleviated when birds are allowed to express themselves as birds. When given a sense of self-determination and self-worth, they heal.

Type of Animals Accepted: Tropical birds only.

Limit of Animal Number: No limit—has taken as many as 40 birds from one person.

Rates: Currently processing reservations to place birds for long term care; Large birds (Macaws and large Cockatoos) $5,000.00, Medium birds (Small Macaws, Amazons, African Greys and small cockatoos) $3,500.00, Small Birds (Conures and similar size birds) $1,500.00.

Placing a Parrot: We will all encounter unexpected changes during our lifetime and sadly, some of these may impact our beloved birds in negative ways. It's difficult to find the right new home for your parrot unless you have friends or family that understand and love your bird. Feathered Friends Forever Rescue can assist with your decision to place your feathered family member here at our parrot rescue and sanctuary. This may be a short visit during relocation or family reorganization, or a permanent placement if that's best for you and your bird.

Parrots are very sensitive to family stress and may react with negativity or plucking. Divorce, moving or other life changes may occur where you cannot provide proper care and time for your parrot. Military deployment may require your bird to stay with us until you return home. Hundreds of birds from various backgrounds have found their way to Feathered Friends from across the United States. Some are permanent residents, some get adopted and some are vacationing here while their humans are otherwise occupied.

Financial Support: Since we operate solely on donations, your financial support is necessary to both your family companion and the continued success of the Rescue. Several factors are evaluated to ensure proper funding is present for your parrot. Medical care, food requirements, special needs and maintenance are just a few of the necessities of parrot care. In order to continue to accept new birds, we must have the resources to support the existing flock first. Therefore, we will require donations for all aspects of placement.

Last will and Testament Permanent Placement at Feathered Friends: Feathered Friends Forever has been hard at work on a new $250,000.00 construction project, with 2 of the first stage of flights completed and occupied. Now is the time for those of you who have contacted the Rescue about placing birds with us in permanent residence as a final request to state your intentions formally and secure a future spot for your bird. We are currently processing reservations for all incoming birds designated for care and placement at the Rescue in the event of your or your family's demise. As the Rescue continues to grow, our policies must adapt accordingly. Taking reservations for birds that will be entrusted to our care will enable us to project and thereby ensure our feathered residents receive the quality and continuation of care you would want for them and they so deserve. We currently have nearly 1500 birds and we expect the numbers will continue to increase over the next few years. The new parrot habitats now under construction will accommodate the permanent resident birds already here at the Rescue but we also want to look ahead in preparation for meeting the needs of our incoming future residents. At this point Feathered Friends is full. For those of you planning to place your birds at the rescue, it is time to make your reservations. We need to have an accurate number for future residents that are scheduled to be here at the rescue. We have set a standard reservation fee based on the size and type of the bird. Large birds (Macaws and large Cockatoos) $5,000.00, Medium birds (Small Macaws, Amazons, African Greys and small cockatoos) $3,500.00, Small Birds (Conures and similar size birds) $1,500.00. These fees will guarantee your birds a permanent home here at Feathered Friends. Payments can be made up to 60 months interest free. This was not an easy decision for the rescue to make, but as the number of incoming birds has grown rapidly over the last 24 months we feel it is the only fair way of guaranteeing places to people that have claimed that their birds were to be placed here at the rescue in permanent residence upon their demise. For those wishing to have their Birds spaces reserved we will need the following information with your payments:

- Owners name, address, telephone number.
- Type of bird or birds, their name and age if known and a picture if possible.
- Also any special needs of each bird to be placed at the rescue.

This will allow the rescue to add to the new habitat construction plans to accommodate all future incoming birds. Each reservation will have a folder made for each and every incoming bird containing all of the above information. Again, if you fail to maintain payments for a period of 90 days we have no choice but to post your bird as adoptable. We regret having to make these decisions, but with the rising cost of bird food, toys and other operational expenses of the rescue we just cannot continue to support the birds that you promised to provide for when they were placed here at the rescue.

Permanent Residence: When placing your bird in a permanent residency program, you need to support it with a monthly or annual payment plan. This can be established with your bank, credit card or PayPal. Estate planning and Estate entrusted parrots require proper paperwork to ensure proper placement. Our Estate planners can provide assistance in this area if needed. If a bird is placed as a permanent resident by an estate and the estate financial means fail to maintain the bird, it then becomes the responsibility of Feathered Friends Forever to maintain the said birds in a forever care. With hundreds of owners defaulting on support payments for birds that are in permanent residence at the Rescue, we find it necessary to make changes to our Permanent Placement Program. As of January 1, 2011 the rescue will have fixed rates for placing birds here at the rescue.

- Macaws and Large Cockatoos: $1,500.00 check in and processing at arrival, Minimum of $100.00 per month on bank draft or credit card.
- Small and Medium Cockatoos and small macaws: $1,200.00 check in and processing fee at arrival, Minimum $75.00 per month on bank draft or credit card.

- Conure and Similar Sizes: $250.00 check in and processing fee at arrival, Minimum $25.00 per month on bank draft or credit card.

This act gave the G.D.A. the authority to impound neglected horses. We are an all-volunteer network dedicated to ending the abuse and neglect of Georgia horses. We do not have a facility. The horses in our program are maintained in foster homes until they find adoptive homes. Our goal is to find a home for each animal that has been accepted in our program. Most are hardship cases due to the economy. We carefully visit each situation before accepting an animal into our program.

Cedarhill Animal Sanctuary, Inc. is located in Caledonia, Mississippi just five miles from the Alabama state line, in the NE part of the state. We were founded in 1990 to serve as caretaker for abandoned, abused, homeless, and neglected exotic and domestic felines. We do not breed, sell or exhibit any of the animals at Cedarhill, because the welfare and safety of the cats is our primary focus. Cedarhill is now home to over 200 animals including: 155 domestic cats, 2 bobcats, 4 lions, 7 tigers, 8 cougars, 4 potbellied pigs, 21 dogs, and 2 coyotes, 1 neurologically damaged squirrel, 9 roosters, and 4 hens. Cedarhill is a "true sanctuary," as we do not enter the exotic cats' living space until they exit for feeding. Each lion, tiger, cougar and bobcat has a lockup area where it goes to eat. While they are eating, all drinking water dishes and tiger pools are cleaned and filled with fresh water and all waste is removed. We do everything we can possibly do to protect the safety of our staff and the animals entrusted in our care. When I started building enclosures in 1987, I modeled them after other sanctuaries and zoos. With the comfort and safety of each animal in mind, I built the best enclosures we could afford. And by all means, these habitats are still castles compared to the horrendous housing conditions -- chains, basements and concrete boxes -- these cats have previously known. My vision for the sanctuary, however, changed in 1995 when we were able to build three large habitats for a group of lions and tigers. Watching these cats experience for the first time in their lives a space truly big enough to run and romp, well...it was breathtaking. It put tears in my eyes and a steely determination in my heart. Years have passed since that day, but not a minute goes by that I don't eat, sleep and drink the vision of building a better sanctuary for these animals - - and for those yet to come. At the same time, this is a dream grounded in reality. In order to rebuild, the sanctuary needs contributions exceeding its annual operating costs. At an annual budget exceeding $300,000, that is no small feat for a relatively unknown sanctuary in rural Mississippi. Yet, for a sanctuary that has literally survived 100 mph winds and the equivalent of an economic tornado...nothing is impossible! We have cleared the land, drawn the plans and must now raise the funds necessary to build twenty-one new habitats. Their wooden houses will be replaced with storm housing wedged into the hillside. Each big cat will have a 1/2 to 1 acre habitat where it can live a safe, exciting and comfortable life. Cedarhill relies solely on tax-deductible contributions and support from our loyal sponsors, and is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. The American Sanctuary Association (ASA) and Animal Centers of Excellence (ACE) accredit Cedarhill.

Limit of Animal Number: Not specified.

The Phoenix Landing Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit, all-volunteer organization. It was established to promote and protect the welfare of parrots, especially those with an extensive lifespan. Increasingly, these intelligent and beautiful birds are becoming household companions. Meanwhile, people are rapidly consuming the parrots' native rain forests and deserts. As guardians of our pets, and growing consumers of the land, it is our responsibility to provide care and help for parrots -- both in domesticity and in the wild. Our objectives are to provide educational activities regarding the care and needs of parrots, provide a permanent home for large parrots who outlive their guardians, facilitate adoption for parrots who need a new family, provide refuge for abused, neglected or abandoned parrots, sponsor research of wild habitats and natural parrot behaviors, sponsor better avian education for vets and vet students, and advocate standards of care for breeders, pet stores, sanctuaries, and rescues.

Lifetime Refuge: We are building large free-flight facilities near Asheville, North Carolina. This beautiful and lush land will provide a permanent home for large parrots. They will be housed with a flock of the same species. Some parrots adapt very well to living in a natural bird-like environment ~ it is instinctual, and these habitats will closely approximate nature. In the near future, we will be launching a capital campaign to build The Landing, a 21st century eco-friendly facility, to help parrots in several ways. It will be home to an Education and Conference Center, sponsoring cutting-edge programs regarding parrot care for people nationwide. The Adoption Center will allow birds to meet prospective families and be housed properly until they are adopted. The Education and Conference Center will also be available to host other special events, such as symposiums regarding conservation or the environment. The Landing will also be the permanent home to some birds living in free-flight aviaries. Lastly, a small number of rentable suites will be available overlooking the flights.

Adoption & Rescue: Other parrots may be so imprinted by humans that they are most happy with a family. Phoenix Landing operates an adoption and rescue program. We make every effort to find each parrot a new home with a human family, when this is the best option for them. Adoption fees may apply and attendance at our seminars is required.

South Carolina Awareness and Rescue for Equines, Inc. (S.C.A.R.E.) is a statewide non-profit organization and our mission is to assist equines in need. To my knowledge we have never had any horses willed to us, and frankly I don't know if that is something our board has ever addressed or discussed. I would be more than happy to present this to them, if that is something that you are interested in doing. There have been circumstances where we have allowed individuals to donate their horse to our organization, primarily in cases of financial hardship that put the horses at risk for neglect or continued neglect, but where criminal charges were not appropriate. We work closely with law enforcement and animal control agencies within the state to provide a means of transport, housing and care, and in many cases assistance with investigation and prosecution of neglect/cruelty cases. Once a horse has been introduced into our program, and is free of litigation, it is placed in a SCARE approved foster home and monitored by our representatives for the duration of its life.

Raven's Haven Exotic Bird Rescue, Inc. was established in March of 2000 when we became aware of the large number of parrots and parrot-related species that were living lives of neglect and abuse. Parrots are now the second most popular pets in the United States. Along with that popularity have come the many problems that are normally encountered with more traditional domesticated species such as dogs and cats. The major difference, we believe, is that most of the parrots now kept as pets are not domesticated through years of selective breeding but instead, are only one or two generations removed from their wild ancestors.

In fact many were caught in the wild and imported to the U.S. during the 1960's up until the early 1990's, when it became illegal to do so. Many of these "wild catches" retain their wild traits and have been sold and resold to a number of guardians. Herein lie the problems, which make our organization, and others like it, necessary. These parrots, which are usually bought on impulse and without knowledge of their emotional needs, will, in many cases, react to the lack of attention by their guardians in an unfavorable manner. As many are semi-tame and have not known a stable and consistent home, these birds can have behavioral problems and can be dangerous as pets. These parrots are doomed to being passed from one guardian to another or back to the pet shop as each new guardian realizes that their new pet will never be the "Busch Gardens" bird they had hoped for. Many will bite, scream or even resort to self-mutilation in an effort to get attention from an uncaring guardian. Thus starts a cycle that can be repeated many times during the bird's long life. Unlike a dog or cat, whose life is relatively short in comparison, a parrot should live from 20 to 100 years depending on the species. This of course assumes that the bird has survived the nutritional neglect offered by many casual bird guardians. In the effort to stop this endless cycle we formed Raven's Haven to offer an alternative to people who needed to find a caring "home for life" for their bird and to offer a retirement home for the birds deemed unsuitable for placement. Our goals include offering a permanent "retirement" home for parrots that cannot be placed in new homes and finding good, caring homes for the adoptable birds that have been given up by their guardians due to unforeseen difficulties. We have encountered many cases where parrots have been given up for adoption when their guardians have become ill or divorced. These people needed to place their birds quickly and felt uncomfortable with the options of reselling their bird back to a pet shop, in the want ads or giving the bird to friends or family where questionable care might be offered. We have also received birds that have been given up because of unacceptable vocalization or dangerous behavior. We hope to offer people the security of knowing that their bird will be cared for and that time will be taken when finding a new home with a sincere, dedicated and appropriate person. We do not purchase birds. We also offer a help line for new caretakers with questions. Our office hours are 9 am to 5 pm Monday thru Friday. Until now, we have relied on word of mouth to receive birds and to find adoptive homes. We anticipate the effect of internet exposure will be more adoptions as well as more desperate people wanting to give up their birds to our care. As many of these birds will need care for up to 100 years, our task is formidable.

We live on a small acreage in Tullahoma, TN. Tony and I met a long time ago in Hawaii. Tony is retired from the Air Force and a Veteran of the Vietnam and Gulf Wars. I am a Navy Veteran and have been in Law Enforcement for many years. I am a country girl and have been around animals all my life. Tony, being originally from Chicago had not. For our first Valentines Day I gave him two Rottweiler puppies. That began a love affair with all Gods Creatures that continues to grow and expand as the years go by. To help others who cannot help or speak for themselves has been a lifelong dream of mine. So welcome and thanks for making my dream come true. Please look around and if we can be of any assistance please let us know!
