2nd Chance 4 Pets Selected to Exhibit at the 29th World Veterinary Congress

Los Gatos, CA (April 21, 2008) – 2nd Chance 4 Pets has been selected to exhibit at the 29th World Veterinary Congress, to be held July 27-31 in Vancouver, Canada. This is one of the premier events for the veterinary community worldwide. 2nd Chance 4 Pets volunteers will leverage the gathering of veterinarian professionals to showcase the importance of lifetime care planning for pets.

"Being able to participate at international events like the World Congress is significant for broadening our ability to reach members of the veterinarian community through our Veterinary Outreach Program," said Amy Shever, Director of 2nd Chance 4 Pets. "Animal care professionals are front line advocates in our ongoing mission to reduce the number of pets relinquished and euthanized due to the death or disability of their human caregivers. Veterinarians relate to this cause and are very receptive to our call to action."

Sponsored in part by the Canadian Veterinary Medicine Association, the World Congress provides attendees with multi-track, multi-discipline programs on the latest scientific and social issues of concern to animal health care professionals throughout the World. 2nd Chance 4 Pets will be located at Table Top #5 between the Scientific Sessions and the Exhibit Hall in the Vancouver Convention and Exhibition Centre.
